Si Simoni Names Construction And Amplifying Heads For Spardi Gras

Abramson, Schnabel, Tormey, Gifford Selected

Four more chairmen for Spardi Gras committees have been appointed by the general chairman. The students appointed are: Warren Tormey, Tom Gifford, Sid Abramson, Bob Schnabel.

Tormey and Tom Gifford are holding down the job of construction work for the organizations having concessions during Spardi Gras day, and which organizations possess only lady members.

The cost of building the concessions, however, will be charged to the representative organization.

The committee that is to work with Tormey and Gifford will be announced shortly.

Abramson and Schnabel have been selected to be co-chairmen for all amplifying systems during the events.

Id is an especially active member of the sophomore class and has been a committeeman for various occasions in conjunction with events given by both last year's frosh class and the present soph class.

Schnabel, a freshman, entered State last quarter, and he has since shown remarkable talent, in lieu of his lack of experience along managerial lines.

Prospective Beard Growers Urged To Stop Shaving Now

All State students, all students except girls, we meant to say, who have tentative plans to enter the House of David clan, are especially invited to join the anti-shaving contest to be held in conjunction with Spardi Gras Day.

Any boy or girl for that matter, that has any facial foliage or vegetation is asked to refrain from plowing up the same after April 25th, the opening day of the contest.

Prizes will be awarded to the faces, or holders of the faces, that have the bushiest growth, to the face having a beard with the neatest, and to the face that just has the beard.

Bill Jennings, prominent football man, is in charge of all arrangements of the contest. Anyone wishing to sign up for the contest is requested to see Bill and also to hide his own razor.

Today Is Last Day To Pay Class Fees

Today, Wednesday, April 25, will be the last day to pay class fees. They are payable all day in the Information Office at the main entrance.

After today a late fee of $1.00 will be in effect. As no statements are being mailed out, the students should attend to the matter as soon as possible.

W.A.A. CONVENTION IN SANTA BARBARA HELD THREE DAYS IN APRIL REPRESENTED BY S. J.

Debates, discussion groups, and speeches by prominent people formed an important part of the program.

The girls stayed at the beautiful Samarkand Hotel in Santa Barbara, and were entertained with luncheons, dinners and tours, one of which was an interesting tour to the Old Mission and Montecito Estate.

The San Jose group was honored in being chosen to lead a discussion group on "Opportunities in promoting a mixed recreation program."

The girls obtained quite a few good ideas from the other representatives that are to be worked into plans of W.A.A. for the quarter.

Hiking Club Motors To Saratoga Hills For Walk To Summit

Last Sunday under the leadership of Miss Bullock and Miss Peck, the San Jose State Hiking Club motored to the Saratoga Summit, where they hiked about the hills during the day, following an abandoned road down from the summit and back.

Owing to the disagreeable weather, either fog or rain most of the time, only about twelve hikers turned out.

The next college hike will be to Big Basin in two weeks. Next Sunday, however, the Sierra Club will hike to Grant Ranch via Alum Park, and although this club and the College Hikers no longer combine their excursions, any State students are invited to participate in the Sierra Club trips.

All welcome, chapel, today at noon in the Little Theatre.

Home-Making Group Sponsors Of Bridge

Delta Nu Theta is sponsoring a benefit card party at the Hotel DeAnza on Saturday, April 28, from 3 to 5 o'clock. The proceeds will be placed in the new Home-Making students loan fund. This is the second of a series of activities which the society has planned to further this fund.

Judging from the ticket sale, the party promises to be a pleasant success. Anyone interested is cordially invited to participate. Tickets may be secured for 50 cents each from any member of the Delta Nu Theta or from the Home-Making office. Your cooperation in this matter will be greatly appreciated.

Boat Ride Project Favored By State Executive Board In Meet Yesterday

Nine Piece Orchestra Secured For Dancing

Despite the fact that the necessary 400 votes were lacking at the special election held last week to conduct a boat ride for the entire student body, the Executive Board, at a regular meeting yesterday morning, voted unanimously to conduct the Boat Ride.

The change in ideas came when it was learned that 400 students were not necessary to make the boat ride a success, therefore, no matter how many go on the Boat Ride, it is bound to be a success.

The date of the big event, as yet, has not been determined, but the "Spartan Daily" will announce the date and other details as the plans progress. However, that a nine-piece orchestra is being secured for the event is certain.

The Boat Ride is likely to be the last student body affair of the quarter, so the matter, which needs the entire support of the student body, should be "talked-up" and no matter what day the event falls in, the majority of the students should contemplate on going.

Spardi Gras Prizes Ordered From S.F. By Three Chairmen

Placing tentative orders for prizes of over $150, Hugh Staffebach and Ambrose Nichols, co-chairmen of the concession committee accompanied by Si Simoni, general chairman for the entire day, returned from San Francisco last Saturday.

Several wholesale novelty distributors were questioned concerning types of prizes and costs of such, and it was finally decided that the prizes, in order to be of fair value, would necessarily cost at least $150.

All heads of committees that are to run booths featuring games and prizes are requested to see either Staffebach, Nichols or Simoni.

SIX S. J. FIELD RECORDS BROKEN

THE SPORT SPOTLIGHT

By
Conroy and Cox

Track relations between San Jose and Fresno State are becoming strained year after year. Arguments are a common thing when the tracksters of the two schools clash. From all outward appearances there is always unnecessary tactics—far from fair—taking place while the men from the two schools are battling for honors on the run-way.

Hotchkiss, Harper At It Again

During last Saturday's dual meet relations were strained from the opening event on the program, the mile run. Glenn Harper, Spartan running, in the lead in the second lap was being passed by the Fresno entry, Hotchkiss. Ahead of Harper by a half yard, Hotchkiss cuts into the pole position, tripping the Spartan and sending him off the track. As it looked where we were sitting the blame should be directly placed on the Fresno lad.

Must Have Two Yard Lead

Track rules state that a two-yard lead is necessary before cutting to the pole. Definite proof is shown that Hotchkiss didn't have the required two yard lead by the fact that when he did cut in he forced Harper off the track into the infield.

This little affair happened directly in front of the stands and was plainly visible to everyone.

Hotchkiss went on to win the event with Harper taking second. The fact that the Fresnoan won the race brought absolutely no glory in his direction. He will long stand in an unfavorable eye of those who witnessed the meet Saturday.

Officials Ignore Foul

Why the officials refused to disqualify either of the men is as yet unsolved.

As we see it, both men should have been counted out of the race. Hotchkiss for cutting in too soon and Harper for running off the track. Rules definitely cover these two points—and call for disqualification.

Not the First Time For Hotchkiss

This Saturday's affair was not a trick for Glenn Hotchkiss. In fact something like that might have been expected. Last May at the Far Western Conference meet Hotchkiss and Harper were both disqualified from the mile run because of a similar happening. Hotchkiss was passing Harper and when just a matter of inches in the lead decided to take the pole. Harper seeing the Fresnoan cutting in, shoved him to protect himself from being run off the track. This resulted in both being eliminated from the race, Hotchkiss for cutting in and Harper for shoving.

Fresno Relayers Disqualified

Forgetting there was such a thing as track rules in the first event, the officials must have found a rule book by the time the final track event, the mile relay, rolled around. In this event the Fresno team was disqualified because of the cutting in tendencies of Bulldog Roy Harris. Harris off to a fast start immediately caught Clemo and cut directly in front of him to the pole, breaking the Spartan's stride.

Such Affairs May Be Harmful

Such affairs may not look to carry much weight or effect the athletic relations at the present time, but if they continue to grow trouble is bound to arise.

We, in this section of the state saw Santa Clara and St. Mary's break relations because of foul tactics, which started small and developed year after year. We don't want such a thing to develop between Fresno and San Jose.

Salvato Wins Furlong . . . Time 21.2 . . . New Record

Lou Salvato led the way in record setting last Saturday by establishing new marks in the 220 and 100 yard dashes. Below, he is shown winning the 220.

FRESNO STATE SLATED TO WIN THREE PLACES IN F.W.C. QUARTER MILE

By GIL BISHOP

Give Fresno three out of the first four places in at least one event—that event being the 440. With men such as Harris, Rambo, Horner and Brantley, all capable of crowding the daylight out of 50 seconds, the Hannerites should breathe a sigh of relief when the event is called.

Harris walked away with the one-lap with San Jose last Saturday in the fast time of 49.7. The time was exceptional considering the slow track, but still .7 seconds off the time the Fresnoan turned in last year when he toured the course in 49 flat to come in first in the Far Western Conference meet at Sacramento.

Brantley and Rambo are both to be considered in the money. The former has been running under :51 all season and should add points to the Fresno ledger on May 5. Rambo breezed in second last Saturday in close to 50 flat and should do even better by the time the big meet rolls around.

Horner did not run the 440 Saturday but is capable of around 51 when in shape. With such an array of stars, the Bulldogs should gather eight or nine points in the quarter.

Bob Clemo of the Spartans should prove to be the outstanding threat against the Fresnoans. The Gold and White runner failed to crash into the point column Saturday, finishing behind Harris, Rambo and Brantley in that order. However, Clemo failed to run his best against the invaders. After turning in a 49.5 mark in the U.C.L.A. meet, the Spartan hasn't come close to 50 seconds in a flat race. Blesh hopes that the blonde quarter-miler will return to his peak of early season and break up the Fresno aggregation.

Jenks of Chico and Hoobyar of Pacific are the dark horses in this event. Jenks has been running around 51 in dual meets and under tough competition may be able to pare this down. He has yet to be pushed hard against the easy competition the northern school has faced. A comparison of Clemo and Jenks may be made here Saturday.

Rumors from Pacific indicate that Hoobyar is training diligently for the Conference gathering. Once the threat of the Junior Colleges, the dark Pacific star has done little in the F.W.C. circles. Predicted to take the one-round

Walker Grooms State Swim Team For Meet With Menlo On Friday

After the loss of the Freshman meet to Sequoia High School last week, Coach Walker has been working his men to the limit in order to whip them into shape for the three remaining meets upon their schedule, the first of which is with Menlo Junior College in the local pool, Friday night.

Menlo, without a particularly strong team, will nevertheless be dangerous in several events, especially the longer distances. Sexton, who was second place 440 man in the N.C.I.S.C. and should have been first, is a Menlo swimmer. Coach Walker has been grooming Fitzgerald for the longer distance race for this meet. In practice Monday evening Fitzgerald bettered his best previous time in the long race by 15 seconds.

Another strong competitor from the Peninsula school will be "Spec" Watson, whom the freshman track team will remember as the man who scored 21 points against them. Watson is the diver for the Menlo boys and will put up some stiff competition for the local divers, Kinsley and York, according to reports.

clash last year, Hoobyar managed to stagger in a bare third in a break-neck finish, after holding the lead until the last twenty-five yards. This year, with Pacific holding themselves aloof from dual competition, the former Sacramento J.C. record holder is the real dark horse. He holds the J.C. record at 48.5.

The four Fresnoans, Clemo, Jenks and Hoobyar should garner all the points in the quarter mile, with Harris and Rambo favored for the one-two spots.

The relay is practically a gift to Fresno unless the Spartans suddenly come to life. With Rambo, Horner, Brantley and Harris running in the four positions, the F.W.C. and P.A.A. champions can be expected to come through with a win.

San Jose ran 3:25 flat while losing to the Bulldogs Saturday and should be able to drop their time to a point where second place is a certainty. The team selected from Orem, Clemo, Arjo, Murdock and Taylor should push the Bulldogs to a new record.

The battle for third and fourth lies between Chico, Cal Aggies and Nevada with an improbable entry from the latter. As Chico already holds one win over the boys from Davis, they must be logical candidates for the third spot with the Aggies bringing up the rear. The winning time of 3:33.8 should not give either the Spartans or the Bulldogs any sleepless nights.

San Jose-Fresno Dual Sees Four Track, Two Field Marks Established

By STEVE MURDOCK

Six Spartan Field Records, one of which was less than twenty-four hours old, and two school records were sent hurtling into oblivion last Saturday morning when Fresno State's powerful Bulldogs downed San Jose's Spartans 74 to 57 in a hectic and thrill packed dual meet.

New track marks were recorded in every running event up to and including the 880 yard run, and in addition, new standards were established in the high jump and broad jump.

Captain Lou Salvato definitely established himself as the greatest Spartan sprinter of all times when he set new track and school records in both dashes with sensational marks of 9.6 and 21.2.

The diminutive Spartan speedster bettered his own school mark of 9.7 for the century and also his record of 21.3 for the furlong which he held in conjunction with Don Harder.

He likewise cut down his own track record of 21.4 for the 220 established earlier in the season against San Francisco State.

The former track mark for the hundred was 9.7 established by Bud Shoemaker of Modesto J.C. last year.

Friday afternoon in the freshman meet, Dixon, slender San Mateo J.C. half miler, set a new track record of 1:58.3 for the two lap event, breaking the old mark of 1:59.8 held jointly by Sherman Lemon of Sacramento J.C. and Bob Clemo of San Jose.

Saturday morning, less than twenty-four hours later, Elroy Robinson, sensational Fresno State middle distance star, put the mark down to 1:56 flat, almost phenomenal time for the local course.

To Bob Harris of Fresno State goes the distinction of being the first man ever to break fifty seconds for a flat 440 on the local two-turn track.

Negotiating the distance in 49.7 seconds, the long-legged Fresnoan wiped from the books the mark of 50.6 established by Johnny Hoobyar of the College of Pacific here last year.

While he failed by the proverbial knat's eyelash to set a new world's record, Walter Marty did succeed in bettering by a quarter of an inch his own Spartan Field mark on the high jump.

Two years ago he cleared 6 feet 5 3-4 inches at the local plant.

Saturday he boosted that mark to 6 feet 6 inches before attempting to set a new world's standard.

On that same occasion two years ago, Floyd Wilson of Fresno State, then a freshman, set a new broad jump mark of 24 feet 1 inch for the local pit.

He equalled that mark Saturday, but his effort was not good enough to beat Doug Taylor, the greatest broad jumper ever to wear Spartan colors, who came through with the second best jump of his career to set a new figure at 24 feet 5 3-4 inches.

ARTICLE IN EDUCATION NEWS TELLS OF NOVEL FRESNO STATE COURSE

"Enjoying Education" Is Popular New Subject

Education for Enjoyment, an unusual course offered at Fresno State College for the second year, is described by Dr. A.R. Lang, dean of education at that institution, in a magazine article in Sierra Educational News.

A need was felt for a course in which would be stressed particularly life-activities and which would include the contributions of all departments having something to offer to the activity. The recreational field was chosen because of the increasing need for better use of leisure time.

The physical education, art, and music departments contributed with great success to the first semester's work. The program for the present semester: The English department will have two nights—the course was scheduled in the evening so that teachers could attend. The time was devoted to the enjoyment of Literature, Public Speaking, Biography, and Poetry.

Ways of enjoying the physical and mechanical world in which we live will be explained by the Physical Science department in two evenings. The Geography and Geology departments will present the enjoyable features of our geographical and geological environment. The Biology department showed how to appreciate reptiles and insects, mammals, gardens, birds, and wild flowers.

A session will be devoted to mathematics, plays, and a discussion of the psychology of recreational reading. Astronomy and drama conclude the program.

This program had such a wide appeal that proved profitable as well as interesting to the large group enrolled, showing a few of the many ways of using leisure time to the best advantage.

Kersey Gives Views on Drinking, Smoking

Although he does not advocate smoking, drinking, or swearing as common practices for public school teachers, Vierling Kersey, state superintendent of public instruction, believes that swearing will not make a teacher immoral. It is to be inferred, however, that since it is not desirable as a common practice, the liberty will be allowed only under stress of extreme provocation.

"Nervous", Remarks Clancy Day Before Production Of Play

"Well, I can't say exactly how I feel about it," Jim Clancy said in reference to his play which is to be produced here for the first time on Wednesday night. He was busily sawing wood, in the theater workshop for part of the setting. "I guess I'm pretty nervous, although I'm so busy I haven't time for much else right now. After it's over, I'll be pretty relieved."

Jim Clancy is the first and only student in the history of the college to have a play of his own produced. Dr. Sanderson was the only other person to present an original play.

The play itself is a brilliant, sophisticated comedy. The characterizations are unusually clear cut, and contrasting expertly. The lines are gems of priceless wit.

The story is centered around a young doctor who is a victim of amnesia. His illness is disastrous, for he does and says some rather peculiar things. With the aid of his trusted servant, S'Panza, Linn Walters finally manages to emerge from the difficulty. Walters is played by Joel Carter, and S'Panza by Jim Fitzgerald.

Spartan Spears To Take Over Duties Of Little Sister Head

It was voted that Spartan Spears, Sophomore women's honor society, should be given the duties which have formerly been in charge of the A.W.S. little sister chairman. Arguments in favor of the shift of responsibilities were that the sophomore women probably remember the difficulties that they encountered as freshmen more clearly than the senior women, and also that this will give Spartan Spears a better opportunity to become acquainted with active freshmen who would take over the society during their second year.

Mr. K.W. Watson Is Speaker On Mexico

Mr. Kendrick Watson, local college student delivered a most illuminating sketch of the Mexican situation, especially here in San Jose, before the Pre-Theology group last Thursday noon in Room 17 of the Home-making department.

Sketching rapidly the immigration problem of the Mexicans, he then continued by exploding the fallacy that Mexican labor is a cause of unemployment of the Americans. He concluded with the religious and social outlook of the race.

The unbiased and straight-forward manner of presentation was met with great approval by the group.

Faculty members present were Dean Charles B. Goddard and Mr. Earl Count.

The guests found their places at one large table daintily decorated in pink, white, and green. The color scheme was prettily carried out in the ice served at the close of the luncheon.

After the luncheon the guests went to the Cranney home, where bridge was enjoyed. The home was most attractively decorated with many kinds of spring flowers, including many beautiful irises, roses, and other blossoms.

Another lovely affair given for Miss Allario was a kitchen shower given by Miss Florence Jewell at which the guests were members of the Black Masque society of San Jose State.

Has Ted Fio-Rita, the famous S.F. maestro, reached his peak of popularity and is near the slide down the other side? This question goes unanswered again this eve as Ted continues his work for the Old Gold firm, featuring Dick Powell and the Debs, K.F.R.C. at 7.

Many news wags are expounding on the theory that because the Old Gold people are planning to discontinue their air ballyhoo it is a safe bet to say that Ted has failed to carry on the fine work down by past masters of this aircast, such as Paul Whiteman and Fred (coming to the Orpheum Saturday) Waring.

If Ted is failing in his work it can be attributed to one factor only; the fact that he has the tendency to over-arrange his music, as in "Flying Down to Rio."

However, to offset this news comes the report that the ivory pounding leader is considering an offer to take Wayne King's place on that face powder program, which in itself is one slouchy assignment considering the fine offerings the Waltz King has presented.

If this contract is signed Wayne King will take a well-earned rest.

KGO OFFERS BEST BETS

Starting with baritone John Charles Thomas at 6, KGO rides the air waves tonight with the best. 8:15 to 8:45 finds Raymond Knight and his Cuckoos holding sway with another program as crazy as its name, and 9 o'clock brings Fred Allen and his review to the fans with the able assistance of Lennie Hayton and Company. According to Fred Allen, the old philosopher, the best way for a bewiskered man to find his mouth during the process of eating is to talk loudly and when an open vowel is reached to slap a book-mark in the cavity, and merely run the fork (or knife) up this mark and so into the mouth. Simple, isn't it? Yeah, in more ways than one.

KFRC OFFERS

Burns, Allen and Guy Lombardo, 6:30.

Nick (Tiptoe Through the Tulips) Lucas, 8.

Little Jack Little, Joe Daily, Claude Hopkins, and George Hall all following each from 8:30 on.

The Pickle Jar

This week I shall give the pickle to Clarence Naas for the sweet little pussies he draws for penmanship. They're just cunning. I'll put a pink bow around the pickle, Naasie.

Hard as it may seem to believe, Paul Lukes, who is true to at least three girl friends, was left alone for a tennis date last week, but he was able to get a gal to fill in—of course.

It may be presumed that when a lady covers a large chair seat all weight moves toward the center of gravity.

And then there was the young farmer lad at the tea party who felt sort of out of place, so he went to a chiropractor.

There is a very charming little blonde Beta who refers to the boy friend as "the Lord and Master". Now I wonder.

Someone in here the other day made one of the usual bright cracks (just a little ray of sunshine in the office) and one of MY PUBLIC ups and says: "There's a pickle for you," and the bright cracker snorts, "I resent being called a pickle." Oh well—what can you do with these journalists?

The mean person is the one who

Notebook Notes

"My Song Goes 'Round the World," is, to my way of thinking, the finest tune of the year. Ray Noble and his New Mayfair orchestra have an excellent recording of it, as has Richard Crooks. The lyrics are the best since Hoge Carmichael's "Stardust."

Angelo Patri devoted his radio half-hour several Sundays ago to the problem of borrowing. He began with a child in the home that would not tolerate borrowing, and another child in a home that continually practiced what they so fondly called, "being neighborly."

For the sake of brevity, the details must be omitted, but Mr. Patri severely criticized the habit of borrowing and lending. He feels that it leads to trouble and often makes those who cannot afford certain items quite unhappy.

The borrowing of clothes—often without permission—is one of the worst practices. Borrowing books, pencils, pens, assigned work, and the like are denounced by this popular child specialist and educator.

He points out how it is difficult for those who are asked to refuse when they do not care to be made a supply house for another who makes it a habit of borrowing.

College students are probably the worst offenders. They have practiced the art throughout their school career, and when they reach college, they have become the epitome of something or the other. Dr. MacQuarrie might find that those who are stealing articles here at State began by borrowing.

Personally, the borrowing of books and other equipment is not to my liking. I would rather give what is asked of me than loan because then I would not expect to get the loaned article back.

From this some may get the impression that I never borrow or loan books, or other items. This is not true, but it is the habitual borrower whom I detest as I do the cheater.

SLIPS

Friday evening on one of the radio programs originating in Los Angeles, a Hollywood writer was interviewing Wally Ford, popular young movie actor. The usual questions were asked and answered, but a slip.

"Which picture star did you enjoy making most?" came over the ether waves when the continuity read, "which picture did you enjoy making most?" After the audience quieted down, Wally Ford replied, "Jean Harlow."

Another laugh was registered during the showing of a news reel in one of the Fresno theaters last week: a Texas farmer describing what he saw take place near his ranch. It seems that Clyde Barrows, notorious Southwest outlaw, and his two-gun rootin', shootin' gal eliminated two men. His description ran something similar to this:

"I was standin' right over there diggin' when a car drives up. They didn't see me, but I saw them. I didn't pay much attention, 'cause young folks park out thisa way all the time. Somebody began to shout. I looked up, and I saw the man at the wheel pull out a automatic rifle and shoot the man in the front seat, while the girl shot across the radiator and hit the other fellow in the rear."

IMAGINE THAT!

In his book, "Human Sterilization", Dr. Landman reports that some success has been obtained in rejuvenating men by sterilization. Dr. E. Steinach developed the technique and has had some excellent results, although, many fail-

Speech Doings

By JIM FITZGERALD

With the production of its first student written and produced play "Three to Get Ready", scheduled for tonight, Thursday and Friday of this week, the Speech Arts Department is working wholeheartedly toward the success of the presentation.

It has long been known for its reputation of having one of the outstanding play production groups on the Pacific Coast among colleges, and this time it has not only the honor of presenting to the public one of the best sophisticated plays but also the honor of having its author and director a member of its own department. This is in line with the department's policy of instigating progressive speech work in the educational policy of speech departments.

PLAY PRODUCING GROUP SOON

For the benefit of those students who are not in connection with the Speech Department and who tried out for the new play producing group, let me announce that the membership of the organization will probably be posted sometime during the next week.

At the time that the try-outs were held it was not anticipated that a large group would take the written try-outs, but this was not the case. These are holding up the decisions of the committee until they are corrected. A meeting of the group will be held soon after the lists are announced.

During the past quarter the department has been experimenting with a practical course in practical speech for the classroom teacher. This has proved itself to be a necessity, and it has been necessary to change the course to suit the needs that arose within the group itself.

These have been found to be so numerous that it would be advisable to make the course longer than one quarter, and in the future this may be done.

VERSE CHOIR VERSUS DANCER
As striking as this caption may seem, it is exactly the situation that faced the men's Verse Speaking Choir in a recent public appearance.

The members of this group were quite surprised to find that they were to compete with wrestling and boxing matches that preceded their numbers, but were astounded when they found themselves following a Sally Rand-Hula dancer.

Needless to say the boys must have been inspired because their performance took the group by storm, and they are still receiving compliments on their program.

(Page Kenneth Addicott on reports that he is still trying to bill the little girl as a special feature on the program sponsored by the Men's Verse Speaking Choir.)

Junior Class To Have Booth At Spardi Gras Celebration

At a meeting of the Junior Class at eleven o'clock Tuesday it was decided that the juniors would have a booth at the Spardi Gras Carnival, and a committee was appointed, headed by Virginia Maddox to take charge of the arrangements.

Plans were also discussed concerning the Junior Sneak day. Robert Elliot, president of the Senior Class was present for the first few minutes of the meeting and a list of rules for the sneak day were agreed upon and signed by representatives of both classes.

There will be another important meeting of the Junior Class on Thursday at eleven o'clock and all juniors are urged to be present because it will be impossible for the juniors to hold their own against the mighty seniors unless mobilization is executed. The meeting will be held in Room One of the Homemaking Building.

ures have been recorded. The histological changes are interesting to those who are familiar with the operation. It appears that a "new gland" is formed in the successful cases.

Marriage Preferred To Careers Declare Los Angeles Co-eds

Most of the Co-eds of the University of California at Los Angeles will get married after they graduate, although some of them may wait two or three years before planning wedding bells.

Of the 2000 girl students on the U.C.L.A. campus asked last week whether they would choose marriage or a career, 75 per cent unhesitatingly answered "marriage."

Some of the reasons advanced include "A career is too hazardous an undertaking."

"Want a home and children of my own."

"I don't believe in careers for women."

"Marriage is a career in itself."

However, were careers to be undertaken after the U.C.L.A. co-eds indicated the following choices:

Teaching, 56; stage or screen 32; music 23; painting 16; journalism 15; dress designing 8; welfare and social work 6; secretarial 6; scenario writing 4; dietitian 4; librarian 1.
